

Missions Policy Missions Policy Purpose and Limitations

Policy is meant to function harmoniously within the Constitution and Operating Guidelines of Sardis Community Church (SCC). Policy is to be ratified by the SCC Leadership Team (LT) and any changes proposed by the Missions Ministry Team (MMT) should be ratified by the LT before they take affect.

Definition of Missions at Sardis Community Church

In Acts 1:8 Jesus commissions his disciples with the words “But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.” This commission radiated out from the city where the disciples were (Jerusalem) to the surrounding area to people of similar culture (Judea), to people who lived nearby but were of a different culture (Samaria) and finally to those who were both geographically and culturally distant from them (ends of the earth).

We believe it is every disciple’s privilege and responsibility to be involved in each aspect of the commission Jesus gave his disciples. All believers can be directly and immediately engaged in reaching out to those who are not yet disciples in our neighborhoods and in the surrounding area. These are the people who speak English and share our culture, and it doesn’t take any specialize knowledge or expertise to be a witness to them. We are all witnesses and ministers to these people.

Being a witness to those who are culturally and/or geographicly distant from us often requires extra effort and expertise. This area of ministry is what the Missions Ministry Team is mandated to promote and encourage. The MMT will place most of its efforts and resources in making disciples of those people who have the least opportunity to see the gospel demonstrated. We see our strongest mandate at the “outer edge ” of the radiated ring that Jesus described with less involvement in those ministries closer to the centre. This outer edge is not necessarily only geographically distant since some of the people that fit in that category now live among us as refugees and recent immigrants. People go out from us to the outer edges of the ring are called missionaries and usually they need specialized training and expertise to function effectively. Their mandate is to make disciples and to form congregations who can in turn send out missionaries. The MMT will make it possible for each SCC attendee to be significantly involved in the outer edge of ministry that Jesus commissioned all of his disciples to. Jesus gives us all the mandate, the authority and the resources to have a part in the discipling of those who have the least opportunity to hear the gospel and are often hidden from our day to day view.

Missions Ministry Focus

We will place priority on supporting those ministries and missionaries who meet most of the following criteria:

- - involving church members or those closely connected to our church
- - involving ministries that are closely connected to our denominational focus in missions
- - ministries benefiting those who have the least opportunity to see the gospel demonstrated.
- - Ministries that are reproducible and do not require perpetual outside assistance

- - Ministry benefiting those who are the most vulnerable and disadvantaged
- - Demonstrating a holistic approach that avoids the spiritual/physical dichotomy.
- - Realistic possibility of long term engagement and deep relationships
- - Significant contribution to fewer ministries rather than smaller contributions to many ministries.

Every two or three years we intend to have a major emphasis on one area of ministry that we are already committed to that will serve to:

- involve many people in giving, praying, short term ministry and awareness
- penetrate each area of church life with awareness and involvement
- lead to a significant impact in the area of focus
- lead to the possibility of calling out long term missionaries from our church to the focus ministry.

Missions Ministry Budget

- - Those budgets listed in the SCC financial statement as “Missions” and “Conference Related Missions” ( approximately 30% of the SCC budget) are under the jurisdiction of the missions ministry team
